

USA Government Grants for Women 2009-2010

Every year over 500,000 women start their own businesses. Women start two out of every three new businesses, and women are more successful than men. Women have a 75% chance of success in business ownership. That's why the Federal, State and Local Governments offer thousands of programs that give out money, help and information to women who want to start or expand their own business.
